

ASLA

*ASLA 2018 Professional Honor Award, General Design Category
Chicago Riverwalk | State Street to Franklin Street | Sasaki and Ross Barney Architects
(Photo Credit: courtesy of Sasaki)*

Membership

Connect | Advocate | Educate

www.asla.org/join

ASLA

*ASLA 2018 Award of Excellence, Residential Design Category
Balcones Residence, Austin, TX, USA | Word + Carr Design Group
(Photo Credit: Leonid Furmansky)*

*“ASLA is the only organization that protects
and promotes your passion and uplifts the human spirit.”*

Dennis R. Nola, PLA, ASLA

The American Society of Landscape Architects represents a strong, active, supportive global community of landscape architects and designers, industry-related professionals, and students.

The Society's mission is to advance landscape architecture through advocacy, communication, education, and fellowship. ASLA is committed to healthy, beautiful, and resilient places for all.

www.asla.org/join

Your Career, Our Support

Whether you are new to the profession, new to a city, looking for a new job, or looking to move up in your career, ASLA is the place to connect.

- Grow your expertise—choose from 20 ASLA Professional Practice Networks (PPN) and PPN workshops held in multiple locations.
- Find a job or find employees online via our JobLink tool or in person at JobLink LIVE.
- Present your best self—participate in portfolio reviews.
- Take on the Landscape Architect Registration Examination (LARE) with study resources and local study groups.
- Create and build relationships with colleagues in your chapter, nationally, and internationally.
- Get recognized—members receive substantial savings when applying for ASLA student and professional awards.
- Get work—create a FirmFinder profile so clients can learn all about what you have to offer.
- Gain unique perspectives and leadership by participating in chapter or national committee opportunities.

Need PDH?

Inspire your day-to-day practice through education. Whether pursuing continuing education credits for licensure renewal or to enhance your knowledge and skills, ASLA is ready to meet your needs.

- Save money on live and on-demand virtual education at ASLA's Online Learning portal.
- Immerse yourself in the latest trends, new products, and design at the one and only ASLA Conference on Landscape Architecture—members save on registration.
- Track all your LA CES continuing education through your my.asla.org member profile.
- Browse the latest research through the Landscape Architecture Technical Information Series (LATIS) reports. LATIS is also a convenient and affordable way to earn the professional development hours (PDH) needed to meet state licensure requirements. Each LATIS paper enables you to earn PDH by completing and passing a self-study exam.
- Get ready for a deep dive—members have access to the ASLA Library, which houses more than 2,000 landscape architecture volumes and other archival collection and research services.
- Engage with your peers through the Professional Practice Networks (PPN).

(Photo Credit: EPNAC.com)

Read All About It!

ASLA offers members access to blogs, newsletters, and Landscape Architecture Magazine to help you stay on top of your professional game.

- Landscape Architecture Magazine
Award-winning and inspiring monthly magazine of record for landscape architects (print and digital versions available).
- LAND
Member newsletter on the latest information from the Society and the profession.
- The DIRT
A blog devoted to the built and natural environments that explores design and policy developments related to land and water use, urbanization, transportation, and climate change.
- The FIELD
Crafted by ASLA's PPNs, this blog is for members to share expertise, build professional networks, and earn exposure and recognition; only members can contribute articles.
- iAdvocate
Updates on the latest state and federal legislation, regulations, and policies affecting the landscape architecture profession.
- The Landscape Report
Global news resource for members only on all things landscape architecture.

Advocacy

ASLA protects your licensure and promotes policies that support the practice of landscape architecture at federal and state government levels. ASLA is only as powerful as its members—join the iAdvocate network to ensure your voice is heard on essential issues such as:

- Protect Your License
- Water Management and Stormwater
- Multimodal Transportation Planning and Design
- Parks and Recreation Design
- Climate Change and Resilience
- Green Infrastructure

Discounts

ASLA offers savings on resources and tools to help your practice every day. Discounts are exclusive to members and include:

- Salary survey reports
- Landscape architecture and planning software
- Standard form contracts
- Shipping services
- Office supplies
- Business and personal insurance products
- Car rentals

To see all discounts available,
visit: www.asla.org/discounts

(Photo Credit: EPNAC.com)

For questions on ASLA membership:
888-999-2752
membership@asla.org

To learn more about the different categories
of membership, please visit:
www.asla.org/join.aspx

American Society of Landscape Architects

LANDSCAPE
ARCHITECTURE
MAGAZINE